With A Little Help From Our Friends
A 50th Anniversary Appeal

Spina Bifida Hydrocephalus Scotland
The Scottish Spina Bifida Association was founded in 1965 by a small group of enthusiastic parents who each had a child with spina bifida and/or hydrocephalus.

50 years on, we are a registered Scottish charity, now known as Spina Bifida Hydrocephalus Scotland (SBH Scotland). We employ specialist support and nursing staff who work right across Scotland. Our staff offer a life-time commitment of information and support to all those affected by the lifelong, complex disabilities of spina bifida, hydrocephalus and their allied conditions.

Since 1965, we have been almost entirely self-funded but thanks to donations from supporters our services have been able to flourish. We are now in a position where we successfully provide more support than ever before to over 3500 children, young people, adults, their carer’s and families across Scotland.

Our achievements are a direct result of the generous support from friends past and present. Friends who share our vision of enabling all those with spina bifida and/or hydrocephalus to live the best life possible.

Thank you to all those who have helped us this far and with a little help from our friends we’ll be there for our members for another 50 years.

SBH Scotland. There for the journey. Please help us make a difference.
Thank you. We have come a long way. With your help, we have come a long way.
With A Little Help From Our Friends we could go much further...

Now, more than ever, we need your help to raise funds and awareness for our cause.

Our 50th Birthday Appeal

Without your support we could not raise the £1 million which is required to run our vital support services and projects such as health check clinics, play schemes, support groups and intensive support for newborn babies. We receive less than 1% in statutory funding therefore your support is the crucial difference to all those who ask for our help.

With A Little Help From Our Friends is a special fundraising and awareness campaign for our anniversary year. We want you to join the Appeal and help us continue our services including our intensive Infant Support.

The campaign will run for 12 months after being officially launched on World Spina Bifida and Hydrocephalus Day in October. So there's plenty of time to get involved!

Everyone who donates or fundraises as part of the Appeal will receive a copy of a Commemorative Archive Book which will celebrate 50 years of our charity.

Infant Support by SBH Scotland

A diagnosis of spina bifida/hydrocephalus can be a shattering experience. It is an immense stress for the parent(s) who, almost certainly, has no knowledge of spina bifida/hydrocephalus. They have to deal with the psychological stress of having a very sick baby; learning about the condition(s); dealing with medical staff; learning how to be a carer,(including the particular skills needed for children with spina bifida/hydrocephalus) and the realisation that their life has changed forever.

Medical professionals can provide the family with knowledge and expertise about the specific aspects of spina bifida/hydrocephalus but parents need more. They need support to try and understand all of the medical intervention surrounding them, whilst trying to come to terms with the emotional and practical impact of their child’s lifelong condition.
The Infant Support work of SBH Scotland provides parents with the information that they need to come to terms with a diagnosis and helps them to prepare for the future.

“We didn’t know Ella had spina bifida and hydrocephalus until the day she was born. At that point we felt like our world had collapsed. We were scared, worried and couldn’t stop crying. Within a day of Ella’s birth my husband and I visited the SBH Scotland Support Workers for information, reassurance and advice. I cried the whole time and thought there was no hope for Ella but Anne, the SBH Scotland Support Worker, told us in no uncertain terms not to write Ella off! She was clear that, with the right support and care, Ella could reach her potential in life. Ella is now 11 and has undergone many operations and procedures, the most recent being her spinal fusion in May, which lasted over 9 hours followed by an emergency shunt procedure, but she’s a real force of nature! Those words from Anne in the first days have got us through many a difficult day, their support has been invaluable and because of the SBH Scotland groups we’ve also built up a great base of friends for Ella, and for us as parents. Ella is quite simply Ella – a wonderful inspiration to everyone she meets, you couldn’t ask for more than that as a parent.”

Other Ways to get involved

We understand that not everyone can afford to donate money to charities or perhaps doesn’t want to organise an event but there are many other ways you can get involved in fundraising for us without committing to more than you are able to. Our Give a Little Appeal is there for people to give their time and thought.

Give a Little Time... Become a Community Ambassador
We are looking for volunteers across Scotland to manage counter cans in their local postcode area. It’s simple! We will place the counter boxes in local shops and as a Community Ambassador all you need to do is empty them every few months and then bank the income directly into a local branch near you.

Give a Little Thought... Nominated Charity Status
Does your place of work or community groups (e.g. scouts, guides, guild, fête) make donations to charities on an annual basis? Would they consider choosing SBHS as one of the beneficiaries or even make us a nominated charity? If the answer is YES then please nominate Spina Bifida Hydrocephalus Scotland. Every year thousands of pounds are raised by companies and groups and donated to charities, via raffles, party nights, dress down days, sponsored activities. The SBH Scotland Fundraising Team are available to offer any support that the company or group may require.

Give a Little Time... Volunteer with the Association
We are looking for volunteers to help us at our events, bag packs at local shops, can collections or local sporting events. Alternatively, do you know of the perfect location or venue to hold a can collection in your local community? Please let us know and we can contact them on your behalf.

Give a Little Thought... New Supporters
Do you have family, friends or colleagues that would like to fundraise for us? Perhaps you know businesses that would like to get involved? Please mention our fundraising efforts to them and encourage them to contact the SBH Scotland Fundraising Team.
